

Fig. S2 Mismatch distribution for populations of Pterocarya hupehensis. The black and gray lines represent the observed and expected mismatch distributions, r represents the raggedness index, and p represents the significance of a simulation value greater than the observed value.

