

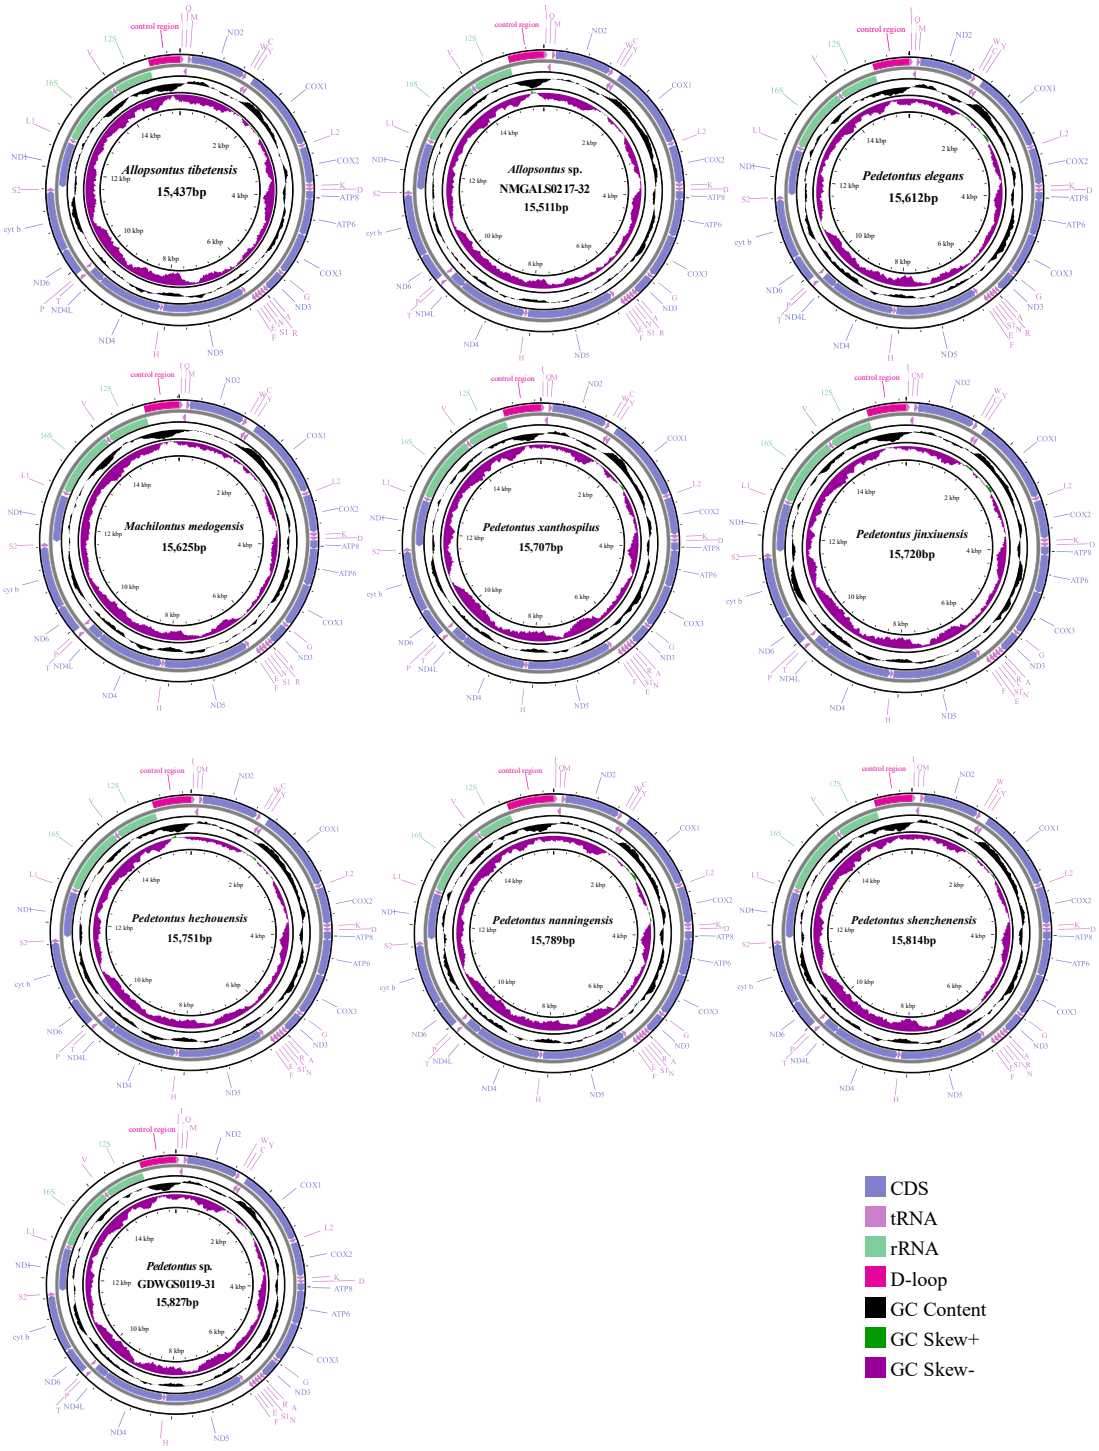

Figure S1. Circular maps of mitochondrial genes from ten species. Genes located on the outermost circle are those found on the heavy strand, and those found on the inner circle are on the light strand.